

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 17, 1879.

Mr. W. L. HAWKINS, who formerly edited the "Educational Column" of the HERALD, sent us a supply of manuscript and clipping last week. We invite correspondence from teachers generally, upon educational matters.

We refer our readers to the article on first page upon Tice's meteor. We have much faith in the ability of science, and Tice as an exponent; and as the general sentiment seems to repudiate his prophetic claim, we give space to the article.

We acknowledge an invitation to a supper and spice, at South Carrollton, on the 19th. Dr. G. W. Townes, J. M. Peay, W. T. Stiles and P. H. Baker are the committee. We expect the supper and occasion to be one of merit, and we wish them success.

THE Echo says "that Jo Mulhatten wrote a letter to the Courier-Journal, from Greenville, and signed the name of Pete Brizentine. Jo should not do that, we depend on him to do our principal lying, and he always uses his right name."

THE F. A. M., of Greenville, are going to have a public installation and oyster supper on New Year's eve. Brethren, let's get up something besides a dance in Hartford. Let's have an oyster supper and literary entertainment. Our town gives rather too much preference to the heel. Let's have something for the head and stomach.

WHILE in Louisville last week, we met our old friend D. H. French, Esq., now of Lagrange. The boyhood friend of Mr. French will be glad to learn that he is doing well. He has a large and lucrative practice, and is climbing right to the top of the ladder in his profession. But few lawyers in the State of his age, have as good a practice as he; and his success in a great measure is due to his untiring energy.

ONLY to think, that after three more weeks, the old bachelors of this glorious Fourth of July republic, will be left without excuse. It will be leap year, and then "boys" you'll get a proposal instant. So cheer up, be brave and be prepared for the worst; if it must come. We advise you, however, to be prepared with excuses, and whatever else you do, be sure to require a week or two to consider the matter in although you may have your mind fully made up before hand.

WHILE in Louisville last week, we lost $190 or $195. We had it in an envelope in the breast pocket of our coat on the inside. We took it out of the safe at the hotel, about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, and missed it about 12 o'clock. There were two papers with the money in the envelope that plainly indicated to whom it belonged. We are of the opinion that it worked out of the pocket and dropped, and happened to be picked up by a dishonest person. All efforts to recover it, have been fruitless.

Woe be unto any paragraph that gets into the Kentucky News Column of the Courier-Journal. It must expect to be passed around the State: "Recently a correspondent of the HERALD, from Litchfield, who speaks in hyperbole," said that Litchfield had the second largest flour mill in the United States," and almost every paper we get, published in the State, has copied the paragraph. Litchfield has a neat little mill capable of grinding about two dozen barrels of flour in twenty-four hours.

REV. DR. THOMAS, of Chicago, is a Methodist preacher who is getting very radical. The New York Sun remarks on his case: "A year ago, the conference of his case is a member showed symptoms of concern about his heretical utterances, and of a disposition to deal with them. This year, however, when his name was called in conference, his presiding elder promptly answered: 'Nothing against him.' Would that have been the answer if the offender had been some half-starved preacher from a prairie circuit instead of the eloquent, popular and well-salaried Rev. Dr. Thomas, of Chicago."

THE Clark County Democrat has interviewed various prominent members of the party throughout the State upon Presidential probabilities. The general tenor seems to be in favor of Tilden as the choice of the party in Kentucky. We feel quite certain, that unless some emergency should arise, calling for a "dark horse," that Tilden will be the next candidate. If that be the case, the Republicans will most likely run Sherman, because of his financial views. These would give him strength in the North and East, and leave Indiana an open question. Indiana politics will be much affected by the money question. The State undoubtedly inclines toward the Greenback sentiment. But with Tilden and Sherman, the currency question would be "easy." And thus the fight would be made upon the old issues. If the Republicans should run Grant, then the Democrats would run Tilden on the issues of fraud and Casimir. And upon these issues, would most likely succeed. However, the HERALD does not wish to forestall the action of the great political parties by unduly influencing public opinion, hence we will not express our own preference, but leave the matter with political jugglers; whose province it is to make, and then rule Presidents and such like.

For fine rhetorical imagery the following address to Grant from Mr. Morris, speaker of the colored delegation, at the Louisville reception, is hard to beat. Mr. Morris said: "Gen. Grant, Honored Countryman: As colored American, proud of our country and free institutions, its fame, its historic record and its treasured names, we desire to convey to you that, humble in life though our station may be, nevertheless we possess hearts that thrill with admiration and enthusiasm for a noble man and a true patriot. We are grateful that wherever you were received on your tour around the world, whether before thrones or at the fireside, distinguished as you are in the field and in the Cabinet, you always maintained the true dignity and nobility of the American citizen. There is no prouder, grander, exalted title in all this wide world than the simple title of American citizen. Your haughty Czar, your pompous Emperor and your gem-crowned Kings, surrounded by their imposing retinue of titled nobles, and dazzling satellites that flitted around the thrones of power, stand dwarfed in the presence of the plain American citizen. Our proudest boast is that we, too, are Americans, citizens of this great republic, the wonder and admiration of good men and true the world over. We hope for the day when the disabilities which environ us because of our former condition will have passed away and in which we can truly enjoy all the blessings and dignities which of right belong to the citizen and which your prowess made possible. Your name and fame will live in history associated with Washington and Lincoln—the father, the savior, the strong right arm of preservation, demonstrating the grandeur of our free institutions, and the reward a grateful people cheerfully bestow: mightier than Czar, more noble than Emperor or King, greater than the great republic of America. Hedged in by the love and crowned with admiration of your countrymen, may long life and prosperity be thine."

THE Echo: "A thirteen-year-old negro boy named Ed. Martin, son of Ann Martin, had his leg badly broken and crushed by falling under a wagon wheel last Saturday."

Two years ago there were not two thousand Southern Methodist papers circulated in Kentucky. Now there are more than three times that number. Southern Methodist.

REV. D. A. BEARDSLEY, while returning home last Sunday week from Henderson, was severely injured by his horse. The animal became frightened and threw up his head, striking Mr. Beardsley a heavy blow in the face. The injury, although painful, we trust is not serious. Southern Methodist.

How Far Can we Hear With the Telephone?

This is a question frequently asked, but we believe has not yet been definitely settled. The longest distance that we have seen mentioned is given in the item below, namely, two thousand miles. If so we should be glad if he would let our readers know.

An exchange states that Mr. Robert A. Packer, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Railroad, is at present hunting with a party of gentlemen in Nebraska. A few days ago he for two hours conversed pleasantly with his wife and friends at Sayre, Pa., his brother at Mauch Chunk, Pa., and friends along the line. The medium was the railroad and Western Union telegraph wires and Edison's telephone. At the office in Bethlehem, Pa., connection was made with the Eastern and Amboy wire, and at Perth Amboy with a Western Union wire, and thence to Chicago and North Bend, Nebraska, where the party are. The distance was about two thousand miles, and every whisper was audible. Scientific American.

Our telephone is to be put in the Post Office, and if its hearing capacity is as good as its tell-tale. We don't know what those folks at Beaver Dam and McHenry will do. If the telephone should carry all the enormous lies told around the stove in the grocery, while the crowds wait for the mail to be opened. We are sure the people at the end of the line will be sadly demoralized. Then if Uncle Remus should happen to raise his sonorous voice in the cellar, the natives would abandon the mines at McHenry, and start for Mauch Chunk instant.

Six—Half-a-Dozen.

"The Hartford HERALD man exhibits his consistency by reading the young man of his place a lecture on the evils of dissipation, and in the same column in great paragon letters, advises them to get to a certain place and get 'old pure magnolia whiskey for 5 cents a drink.' Probably the lecture was put in to offset the advice."—Shelbyville Sentinel.

That's right Mr. Sentinel, give it to him. Any editor who advertises this damnable traffic has no right to lecture his readers upon morality. We are personally acquainted with the HERALD man and know him to be a practical temperance man, as far as drinking is concerned, but it seems to us a little inconsistent for a temperance editor to advertise a business that does the work that the liquor traffic does. The Hartford HERALD is one of the best, if not the best county paper published in Kentucky, except its whiskey advertisements. But look here Mr. Sentinel, what does this mean? Hadn't you better take the note out of your own eye?

"The editor of the Sentinel pretends to be a moral reformer. One would infer that he was too good to advertise anything he did not endorse. We find him challenge to the world, on Cincinnati lager beer. He also advertises 'wine merchants,' and an undertaker's establishment. Now, upon the implication above, one must conclude that the Sentinel advises its readers to fill up with lager beer, wine, etc., and then go home and die. The HERALD is known both by precept and example to be a strict temperance paper. Still we can not refuse to advertise him kill or kill anybody else whiskey, when such advertisements come prepaid. But we do not recommend our readers to drink."—Hartford Herald.

That's right, hit him again, Mr. HERALD. He deserves it. You both need a good shaking up. You ought to know better and do better. Now take the advice of the Advocate, and take out those whiskey "ads," and never again issue another; not even for money. Good Templar's Advocate.

Of course we do not expect to find any objectionable advertisement in the Advocate after the above. But we turn to the fourth page and our very heart sickens within us, to find the following in displayed letters: "Here's something novel. A chance for somebody to WIN(?) a grand piano—worth $500—tickets given away." Now, Bro. Advocate, what do you mean by encouraging lotteries? Don't you know that even the Post Office Department of the United States has and is still doing all it can, to break up those infernal swindles called lotteries? Nay, more, even the civil laws of our land, regard the whole system a swindle, and try to suppress it. Now, dear, dear Advocate, do not, for a few paltry dollars, advertise lotteries. They are worse, if possible, than liquor shops—because they are seductive. How many innocent girls, and even pious ladies may be drawn into the trap to buy a ticket, drawn the offer in the Good Templar's Advocate. Now go to the mourner's bench and swear off, and never do it again.

Steamer Badly Damaged.

On December 5th, the Steamer Henry W. Frank, which left Memphis en route for New Orleans, sustained $5,000 damages by the storm encountered that morning at Helena, Ark., blowing down her chimneys, derricks, etc., and badly damaging the cabin. She proceeded to New Orleans, where she will undergo repairs.

PERSONAL.

A. Porter Hudson is at home again. Mrs. Lucy Eldson, of Owensboro, was in town Sunday.

Jimmie Bennett is lying at his mother's residence very low with typhoid fever.

Joshua Benton, a gay young widower of Beda, called on the HERALD Saturday.

Mr. W. H. Moore fell from his hayloft, receiving a painful sprain in his ankle.

Rev. G. H. Hays passed through town this week, en route to Greenville after his daughter.

M. S. Barnett, of No Creek, is quite sick with typhoid fever—Dr. Pendleton attending him.

John B. Johnston is quite sick with typhoid fever at Jas. K. Tinsley's. Dr. Sam. Berry attending.

Mrs. Mary Scott, of McLean county, is visiting her grand daughter, Mrs. Joseph A. Bennett, of Beda.

Henry Eskridge, Esq., of Hardinburg, was in town Sunday, visiting his sister, Mrs. Gross Williams.

Our young friend, Burt Yager, who has been quite sick for some time, is, we are glad to learn, again.

Charles H. Wilhoyte, the popular young salesman of McJohnson, of Owensboro, was in town Sunday.

Mr. Harry Jarboe, who received quite a dangerous wound on the leg with a foot-axe, some time since, we are glad to know, is out again.

Miss Lucy Gray, of Shelbyville, Ky., is in town, the guest of the family of Dr. J. E. Pendleton. Miss Gray will remain during the holidays.

One of the most quiet, attentive, pleasant conductors we know, is N. W. Sparks, of the Cecilian Branch of the Louisville and Nashville railroad.

Misses Maggie Moseley and Maggie King, presided over a rehearsal of the little folk's dancing class on Saturday afternoon, last.

Mr. J. F. Yager and his beautiful daughter, Miss Lizzie, spent a few days in Owensboro last week. Mr. Yager sold his celebrated roan trotter in Owensboro.

Mr. W. C. Morton and Mr. J. Edwin Rowe and wife, gave a pleasant call at the HERALD office a few evenings since. Pop corn and conversation was the programme. Call again.

Mr. Townsend, of Chicago, Ill., brother of Judge J. C. Townsend, of Hartford, was in town, the guest of his brother over Sunday. Mr. Townsend is a fine looking, intelligent gentleman. He, with the Judge, gave our sanctum a call.

Our young friend, W. O. King, Mail Agent on P. & E. railroad, called to see us last Saturday. We hope Uncle will become one of the permanent fixtures in this capacity. Mr. King is an energetic young man and well qualified for the position he holds. Success to you, young man.

Captain William Ashby, a former citizen of this county, now a resident of Jamesport, Daviess county, Mo., is visiting the friends of his earlier life. He called on us Monday, and though more than ten years have passed, since he left us, we could see no change. He is the same genial, social gentleman as in days ago.

Mr. Will E. McGary, commercial tourist for a Cincinnati hardware house, has just finished his maiden trip in the Green River Country. He took in Hartford last week on his return home—having made quite a successful trip. Mr. McGary is formerly of Madisonville, and is quite popular in this section of country.

We regret to learn of the increased and protracted illness of Mr. George A. Platt. Mr. Platt has been suffering for some time with bronchial troubles, and went to Louisville about a month ago, hoping to gain relief. His health improved until about a week or ten days ago, since which time he has been growing worse. His wife went to Louisville last week, with his brothers and kind friends, and will give him every attention necessary. We hope kind providence may restore to him good health.

The Whittinghill Family.

Our friend, Elder D. Whittinghill, living four miles west of here, was very much gratified last week by a visit from three of his brothers, and they held quite a joyful reunion. The united ages of the four brothers are 225 years, and we would judge that the Whittinghill family is a long lived one. From what we know of them they are very honorable, upright people. My Elder Whittinghill and his brothers, together with the absent one, enjoy other happy returns of the occasion. —Madisonville Times.

DR. MIXER says his imported greyhound made a mile in one minute and twenty-five seconds. He has refused $1,000 for him, and took a $300 prize with him in the New York Argosy, beating that of Queen Victoria's dog, valued at $50,000. —Burlington Free Press.

A Wise Legislator.

He is successful because he has mainly courage to rise above all personal motives or interests and cast his vote and influence on the side of measures which will contribute to the well-being of his fellow-men. The good of the many, even though it proves injurious to the interests of the few; is the maxim of the wise legislator. But certain men will purify the minds and consciences of private practitioners will admit the superlative value of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets because the same medicine have injured their practice. Of course, no man, in his right senses will pay a physician $5 for a consultation, a bottle of bitters, a few powders, and a prescription, when one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and a bottle of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets, both costing but $1.25, will accomplish the same result, viz: cleanse the liver and blood, regulate and tone the stomach, and impart a healthful action to the bowels and kidneys.

Cause and Effect.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Bitter to strengthen the stomach and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See our column.

Hogs.

Hogs are scarce in Logan county. Messrs. Clark and Ryan, Col. Coffman and others have been buying largely and have about exhausted the market. —Louisville Herald-Examiner.

Suicide.

On last Sunday Ernest Randolph, of this place, a young man between 20 and 25 years of age, committed suicide near Mrs. Henry Tulley's place, about a mile and a half from town, on the Clarksville road. From what can be gathered of the fellow's conduct, it would seem that he was very deliberate in arranging for his death.

The evidence indicates that he first pulled out his boots and socks and deposited them in a vacant house near by. Then placing the stock of his gun, a musket, in a fork of a peach tree and placing the muzzle of the rifle over his shoulder, he fired, the bullet striking the barrel with his left hand, he discharged the piece by pushing the trigger with a stick held in the right hand.

A horrible hole was blown in his head and some of his brains scattered about. The left hand was powder burnt.

A note was found upon his person stating, in effect, that he had been troubled upon the subject of religion for the past twelve months; that he had tried to get rid of his care by a course of dissipation, but failing to do so, determined to end the matter by shooting himself.

We give below the verdict of the Jury summoned by Esquire James H. Beall, Coroner pro tem, to hold an inquest over the body.

We, the Jury, find that Ernest Randolph came to his death by shooting himself with a musket in the eye.

D. H. MOSLEY, J. W. SHELTON, W. N. DUNNAN, G. H. WITHERS.

The deceased was the eldest son of Mrs. Rush, a widow lady who lives opposite the Cemetery, on the Clarksville pike. Mrs. Rush is a daughter of the old tailor, Bell, formerly a resident of Russellville, and well known to many of our older citizens. —Russellville Herald-Examiner.

Golf's Crossing News.

REPORTED FOR THE HERALD.

This neighborhood has become the foremost place in Kentucky for rogues. Last Monday night they killed and skinned a fine cow in the yard of Mr. Stratton, and started off with their prize when Mr. S. heard a noise and fired a gun in their direction, whereupon they dropped half the prize but returned later, and to get even with the lost pork stole every chicken he had. The same party killed a hog belonging to Mr. Pete Alford a week or so previous to this, and the whole of Presley Bratcher's chickens were stolen a few nights ago. Some hungry crowd must be lurking in these parts.

The horse-pole business is still active with Mr. Bunch.

Mr. Day has his mill in full blast, and he can grind from 17 to 20 bushels of corn per day, provided he runs early and late.

Probably a Fatal Shooting Affray.

GREENVILLE, KY., Dec. 13, 1879.

Editor Herald:

On yesterday evening about 8 o'clock our equally quiet town was thrown into considerable excitement. In front of the Baptist Church, while religious services were in progress, the sharp report of a pistol was heard. The voices of men of our town were standing together in conversation, when one of the party, Mr. Burt Wing, drew a pistol and fired at another of the party, Mr. Robert Barbee. The ball took effect in the face just under the left cheek bone, and ranging upward, passed under the left eye, destroying the eye, and lodged in the region of the brain. There are many conflicting rumors in circulation in regard to the shooting, but at present it is not prudent to speak of them. Barbee is still alive, but his recovery is improbable. Wing is at large, with a number of persons in pursuit of him. Both parties are of highly respectable families.

A Pleasant Party at Greenwald.

CROMWELL, KY., Dec. 10th, 1879.

Editor Herald:

On last Monday evening the beauty and wit of our town assembled by invitation in the parlors of Mrs. M. M. Mendel to celebrate the fourth birthday of their oldest daughter, Miss Flora. The occasion was a happy one, and all were well. The party was pervaded with a summer-like warmth and comfort. The music was entrancing and beguiled into the mazy waltz, schottish and quadrille. The dancing, listeners, and last, but by no means least, the supper table, resplendent in damask and silver, and groaning under the weight of good things so pleasing to the eye and gratifying to the taste, presented attractions not to be resisted. Wine and repast sparkled round the sumptuous board and enjoyment ruled the hour. The accomplished hostess moved among her guests, dispensing sweet smiles and good cheer with the naive grace so peculiarly her own. While the party was in progress, a host was entering in kind and courteous attention. Miss Flora, the "rare and radiant maiden," in whose honor this delightful entertainment was given, charmed all and all with her sweet womanly ways and dignified manners so far in advance of her years. May she have many happy returns, and may she ever find that air-blow as free from care and sorrow as now. May her every hour be "crowned with love" and her every moment "crowned with a joy." —C. J. Wells.

Litchfield Letter.

LITCHFIELD, KY., Dec. 9, 1879.

Editor Herald:

Warm weather for December. The prospect for a good wheat crop in the free State of Grayson has increased a hundred per cent. in the last three weeks. The dry weather in October and November threatened the destruction of almost the entire crop, and some farmers had almost despaired of a wheat crop, but the recent rains and warm weather have made a wonderful improvement until I don't remember to have seen wheat crops looking more favorable than they do now.

Our new mill has been grinding for the week, running day and night part of the time, and has not kept up with custom work. Mr. Lewis, the enterprising proprietor, intended doing a large business in the general trade, but if he does well he will have to build a new mill—that is, if he continues to get the custom he has for the first week. The work done so far has given universal satisfaction, both as to "turn out" and the quality of flour made. Every man to his trade.

The continued warm weather has caused considerable uneasiness among those of our farmers who have killed their meat. Some have already spoiled, and much more is likely to, if the weather continues warm very long. Better wait while if your hogs are fat.

To such persons as would like to have heard the walls of the Senate Chamber at Washington reverberate with the matchless eloquence of Webster and Clay, we would say, "be sorry for you, but as you are deprived of that privilege forever we can only say to the next best thing, come to Litchfield some Friday night and listen to the logic and eloquence of our debating society. Such men as Major Willis, Squire Lewis, Scott Proctor, and Judge McClure are not to be heard in every place, and the occasion of our debating society is a rare opportunity. "Washington and Columbus," "Pursuit and possession," and sic like to be discussed in all places. If you wish to learn anything about such topics as the above, here's the place to learn it. Some of our juvenile polemics show signs of extraordinary precocity. They are eloquent and forcible, except that sometimes the exuberance of their verbosity is so excessive that they are unable to make the expositions of their profane imaginations to be very difficult of comprehension.

Our tobacco dealers have commenced buying up the crop in grayson. They are paying only from two to five dollars per hundred. The crop in some parts of the county was badly injured by the late frost. Grayson tobacco does not command as good rates as that raised in other counties, perhaps for the reason that the soil does not produce as good a quality, and then it is not so well handled.

Hon. William Haynes, of the Litchfield bar, has recently become a candidate for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney. Mr. Haynes is a clever gentleman and a good lawyer, and without speaking disparagingly of other aspirants to the office, we would say for Mr. Haynes that if elected to the office to which he aspires he would no doubt fill it with credit to himself and profit to his constituents.

Among the probable candidates for the office of Circuit Judge of this District we have heard the name of Hon. T. R. McBeath, of this place, mentioned. Mr. McBeath is also an able lawyer and a polished gentleman, and would doubtless make an excellent officer if elected to the responsible office to which he may probably be elected. We are not a politician, but we do take an interest in the administration of justice, and we take pleasure in saying that the Litchfield bar has more than one member who is eminently qualified for either of the above offices, and we think it but fair that in the distribution of public honors of the district that "The Free State of Grayson" should not be overlooked, and I believe she has never had the privilege of furnishing either a Circuit Judge or Commonwealth's Attorney. It is not time that the wheel of fortune is giving Grayson line of the public favors and honors.

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

Look! Look!

I now say to my creditors that I have given all the time I can give for them to come and settle their notes and accounts with me. I have now legally sworn in as a special Deputy Sheriff. L. M. Stetler, who will settle up with me, please come and settle with him at once. By so doing you will enable me to sell your goods as cheap as any other merchant can sell for cash.

Respectfully, JAS. A. THOMAS.

Sulphur Springs Letter.

SULPHUR SPRINGS DEC. 12.

Editor Herald:

On yesterday morning I observed photographed in ice, on the surface of the water, in a large kettle, an adjacent building and a cedar tree, the body, limbs and foliage of which were perfectly delineated. This, to me, peculiar freak of nature, is doubtless susceptible of easy solution by many of the wise; and I write hoping that a satisfactory explanation may be elicited from some.

On the night of the 7th inst. the family of Mrs. America Pittsburgh were thrown into a more than ordinary degree of excitement by the sudden disappearance of Miss Emma Haynes, a young lady in the employment of Mrs. Pittsburgh. Miss Haynes affianced Mr. Frank Allen, had spent the day with her and the idea soon occurred to some one of the family that probably Miss H. had eloped with her adorer, and on an examination of the apartment occupied by Miss Haynes, it was found that all of her articles of apparel were gone. I know not what Greenie Greenie have said, but I presume one of the rural rights have been solemnized and we can but hope that these two young persons, who have just launched forth on the tempestuous sea of matrimony, will find their way through the storm, may have a complete realization of their fondest hopes during the journey of life and finally a home with the blessed in that land of the Seer.

As the time is swiftly approaching when the various political parties of Ohio county will be called upon to make a selection of some one as their standard-bearer in the candidacy for sheriff. I desire to say, without any disparagement to any avowed candidate, or any unavowed one, that I have conversed with many who regard Mr. A. C. Ellis as one well qualified for the office and should he consent to the use of his name in connection with the candidacy, he will receive the hearty support of many, also of QUIDNUNC.

It is a fact well established by unquestioned testimony that Hall's Hair Renewer, cleanses, brightens, invigorates and restores to its original color and lustre, faded gray or discolored hair, cheaply, quickly and surely. The poorest people prefer to buy it and use it, rather than to proclaim in a manner more forcible than words can delineate, through blanching locks or grizzled beard, that they are aged and passing to decay.

A very short trial will convince the most skeptical that it does eradicate the scalp diseases which rob the hair of its color and life. —Prof. Scott & Keen's Daily Monitor.

The News issued this week on "Tuesday, December 15th." We have known for some time that the News man was a little off his peg; but we did not dream of his losing the date. Wake up.

The Sandusky Hotel, at Owensboro Junction, is still all of its competitors. For the very best to eat, and polite and kind attention go to the Sandusky and you will be accommodated.

In consequence of our heavy loss last week we must urge all those indebted to us to pay us. Please help us at once all you can and thus make us feel that our loss is a light one. Help us all you can and help us now.

Julius Winter & Co., of Louisville, are not only one of the very best clothing houses in Louisville, Ky.; but they are among the most obliging and gentlemanly men to meet with anywhere. We have had extensive dealings with them and have found them reliable and accommodating.

A friend from Sulphur Springs tells us that every negro in that locality is enthusiastic with the idea of Grant's visit to Hartford. "It's a gwine," is the common verdict. We will inform our friends that the visit has been delayed owing to the heavy rains last week, which prevented the completion of the telephone line from Hartford to Beaver Dam. We aim to bring the General to town on the telephone.

The singing school at this place, in charge of Prof. E. S. Edgerton, closed last Thursday night. Prof. Edgerton understands vocal music thoroughly. His great object in teaching is to instruct the pupil to read music so as to be able to take up any piece of music he or she may choose and sing it at once. He contemplates teaching another class this winter. It is suggested by several of the song-loving young people that they take up "Esther" and render it sometime this winter. This is a beautiful piece of music, especially designed and arranged for exhibition. No one, who has read "Queen Esther," can fail to appreciate this oratorio.

MARRIED.—At the residence of the bride's father, J. A. Bennett, Esq., of Ohio county, Mr. Jones Mahon, of Livia, McLean county, and Miss Sallie Bennett.

Christmas goods for ladies. A large line of ladies under garments on the way from New York to the Trade Palace. They will be here in good time for the Christmas trade.

On last Wednesday night at the bride's residence, Mr. Hiner Humphrey was married to Miss Emma Ward, the beautiful daughter of B. L. Ward. We extend congratulations and our best wishes to the happy couple. May life be all it promises to them.

Dan. F. Tracy is doing a fine business in the line of woodwork, blacksmithing, &c. He has two first-class mechanics at the anvil and works two hands at the bench. He is putting up some very excellent wagons, which he sells at bottom prices for cash. Give him your patronage.

Santa Claus will be here on the 23rd inst., but the new goods to supply his needs will be here by the 22nd inst., and we advise everybody who wants to get nice presents to go to W. H. Edson's, where will be a grand display of entire new goods especially adapted for the Christmas trade.

Thomas F. Johnston, of Sulphur Springs neighborhood, killed two hogs at the age of thirteen months, that weighed 507 pounds, the heaviest one weighing 290 pounds. They were a cross between the Berkshire and common scrub.

The ladies of town will give a Leap Year masquerade ball and supper at the Masonic Hall on Thursday night, Jan. 1st. All persons participating are requested to be in mask. This is something new and we may anticipate a nice time, as the young ladies never fail in any undertaking of this kind. We fold our arms and wait.

Music, dancing and social converse was the order of the evening, and everybody was happy. We dare not mention a single name among the beautiful ladies without giving the entire list; but from the look of satisfaction beaming from the faces of the admiring gents all were satisfied.

C. W. Willhoite, of Owensboro, was the only visitor present except Miss Fannie Brotherton, who is spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. Sam. K. Cox.

Old Iron.

At Louisville last week we met Mr. J. C. Mattingly, of Owensboro, Ky., who is a dealer in the article the name of which leads this list. In conversation we learned that in the last seven months he had bought up in Ohio county alone 380,000 pounds of this material, principally picked up at the railroad and river towns. He had contracted at Louisville for 900 tons more. He has bought and shipped from the Green river country in the past eight months over 900,000 pounds. He is a pushing, stirring, pleasant man, and will make a little change on old iron.

A Distressed Woman.

During her daily avocations, or while tripping the light fantastic toe, she unknowingly trampled on some law of nature by exposure, and now she has been suffering with irregular monthly action, or actual suppression. She has severe headache and pain in the back; is nervous and cross, loss of appetite, palpitating heart, falling of the womb, ulceration or hysteria, and has become feeble and prostrated. Is there no cure for such distressed women? Yes. They can be cured of all such troubles by the use of English Female Pills, the most powerful female regulator known. It is adapted to old and young females, whether married or single. Its action tones the whole system permanently.

A CARBONATED DRINK.

If you desire a drink to cool your stomach, open the pores of your skin, cleanse your stomach, and at the same time open your bowels, surely, gently and effectually, try it. If you wish a delightful, sparkling acid drink, that will immediately cure your sick headache, ache and stomach and heartburn, try it. If you want to use the most pleasant and purgative in use, while it is the cheapest and best adapted to all cases requiring a laxative, use Bailey's Safflower Aperient, the most powerful and pleasant carbonated drink in America. Try it.

ANOTHER STRIKE.

The working men—the laboring classes—men who have made quite an important strike. They have struck for a remedy that will make positive and permanent cures of all forms of chills without any other medicine. In all their search throughout the country, they have found that they have "struck" only one article that suits them in every particular, and that article is known as Day's Ague Tonic, which they recommend to their fellow-laborers as entirely worthy of confidence. Workingmen can govern themselves accordingly. For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

A Lady's Wish.

"Oh, how I do wish my skin was as clear and soft as yours," said a lady to her friend. "You can easily make it so," answered the friend. "How?" inquired the first lady. "By using Hop Bitters, that makes pure, rich blood and blooming health. It did it for me, as you observe." Read of it.

Run Klux in Ohio County.

On last Thursday night J. B. Canan and Quint Wilson, on the way from Hartford to Sulphur Springs, were attacked by ku klux near Hall's creek bridge, stones were thrown and one struck Canan on the whisky bottle, the next stone hit him on the pate, whereupon he drew a dissolver from his pocket and snapped the whole round at the assailants, but as it failed to fire, he threw the weapon and hit the man on the fence. On the following morning Canan was not certain whether it was a stone or a post that hit him; but he was certain that he had been hit with something and his bottle was empty.

Found at Last.

Last fall, a year ago, Rob't Plummer, living near Beaver Dam, had a horse stolen. He has recently heard of it in Indiana, and has gone after it. It was taken there and traded by his brother, James Plummer, and it is generally believed that he had stolen it. He recently stole a horse from Isaac S. Brown, of Rockport, and took it to Indiana and traded it and then lit out, probably for Texas. James Plummer, let us warn you, if you steal horses in Texas and get caught, you will look up a rope—see if you don't.

Mane for Sale.

A good saddle and work mare, cheap for cash. W. T. Austin, Beaver Dam.

"En Masque."

The above is the head of a local in the Owensboro Examiner which says: "The ladies of the upper-town society (Methodist) will give a masked social this evening at the residence of Mrs. John Jarboe, &c." The price of admission is ten cents for children and 15 cents for adults. We were rather surprised to see the above notice as we were under the impression the masquerade balls were under the special ban of the church. We cannot appreciate the difference between a masked social and a masked ball. Our young ladies propose a Leap Year party and it is proposed to be masked. It seems that if the church folks in Owensboro can have a masked social we might with a propriety have a Leap Year ball.

A Bug in His Ear.

More than a year ago Mr. C. J. Lamon, a well-to-do and prominent man in the Goshen precinct, lost the use of one of his ears. Several physicians operated upon the afflicted member without affording any relief, until last week, when Dr. Miner, of this city, took charge of the case. He succeeded in taking out a bug that had become encased in a clot and was impacted against the drum of the ear, and Mr. Lamon's hearing was fully restored. You can't get a bug out of your ear now—Bowling Green Intelligence.

Something for the New Year.

The world renowned success of Hostetter's Bitters, and their continued popularity for a quarter of a century, is a fact which is scarcely more wonderful than the welcome that greets the annual appearance of Hostetter's Almanac. This valuable medical treatise is published by Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa., under their own immediate supervision, employing 50 hands in that department. It contains a full and complete list of all the latest medical progress, 8 folding machines, 5 job presses, &c., are running about eleven months in the year on this work, and the issue of same for 1880 will be less than that of the year, printed in the English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Holland, Bohemian and Spanish languages. Refer to it as a copy of it for valuable and interesting reading concerning health, and numerous testimonials as to the efficacy of Hostetter's Bitters, omniscient calculations and chronological items, &c., which can be depended on for correctness. The Almanac for 1880 can be obtained free of cost, from drug-stores and general country dealers in all parts of the country. 48-1m.

A Rare Treat in Fire.

We have engaged Mr. V. M. Metcalfe to lecture for the benefit of those who may attend our corn and tobacco fair. He is thoroughly posted in agriculture, in all its phases, is decidedly practical in his notions and is a pleasant entertaining speaker.

Our fair will take place so soon as the season is suitable and gives the farmers a chance to select their best samples which can be done while stripping and husking. We will give due notice of the time through the paper.

Dr. TUTT'S Expectorant!

IN 25 CTS. AND 51 BOTTLES.

Its properties are Demulcent, Nutritive, Balaamic, Soothing and Healing. Combining all these qualities, it is the most effective LUNG BALSAM ever offered to sufferers from pulmonary diseases.

DR. J. F. HAYWOOD, of New York, voluntarily indorses it.

READ WHAT HE SAYS:—

Dr. TUTT:—During this year I visited one hundred cases of lung disease. In the lower world of the city the cases were of a very severe type. It was there that I was called to visit a patient, and I confess my surprise at the wonderful power of a medicine so easily made. I have never known a medicine to act so promptly and with such happy effects. It instantly relieved the most violent of coughs, and I have never known it to fail in a few days. I cheerfully indorse it as the best lung medicine I ever used.

J. FRANCIS HAYWOOD, M. D.

A NEWSPAPER PUB. WRITES.

Office, Evening News, Augusta, Ga.

Dr. TUTT:—I have been called upon to attend with pneumonia, which left him with a violent cough, that lasted within a month, and I confess my surprise at the wonderful power of a medicine so easily made. I have never known a medicine to act so promptly and with such happy effects. It instantly relieved the most violent of coughs, and I have never known it to fail in a few days. I cheerfully indorse it as the best lung medicine I ever used.

IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.

Reader, have you caught a cold? Are you unable to raise the phlegm? Have you an irritation in the throat? A sense of oppression on the lungs, with short breath? Do you have a fit of coughing on lying down? A sharp pain now and then in the region of the heart, shoulders and back? If so, our advice is take at once a dose of TUTT'S EXpectorant; you will soon be able to raise the phlegm. In an hour repeat the Expectorant, place a hot iron to the feet, take two of TUTT'S PILLS, you will soon fall into a pleasant sleep and wake up in the morning, cough gone, lungs working freely, easy breathing, and the bowels moving in a natural manner. To prevent a return of these symptoms use the Expectorant several days.
